We Build the Systems That Grow Your Revenue.

RevvKraft Solutions helps mid-size companies across India break through revenue plateaus with proven sales systems, performance-driven digital marketing, and high-impact exhibition presence.

Most Growing Companies Hit the Same Wall.

Your product is strong. Your team is working hard. But revenue has been flat for months, or even years. The pipeline is unpredictable. Your best deals still require you to be personally involved. And every time you add a new salesperson, the results do not improve the way they should.

The problem is not your people. It is the absence of a system.

RevvKraft Solutions exists to build that system, for your sales operation, your digital presence, and your brand's visibility in the market.

Why Companies Choose RevvKraft

- Results-first engagement: We measure every engagement against specific outcomes agreed before we begin. No vague deliverables, no generic frameworks.
- Custom-built, not copy-pasted: Every playbook, every campaign, and every stall design is built for your company, your market, and your customers.
- Practitioners, not theorists: Our team brings direct experience from building and running sales and marketing operations across Indian mid-size companies.

- End-to-end accountability: We stay until the system works. Our engagements are structured around outcomes, not just hours delivered.

ABOUT US

Built to Solve the Problem Most Companies Stop Talking About.

RevvKraft Solutions was founded with one purpose: to give growing Indian businesses the systems, skills, and strategies they need to convert ambition into consistent, measurable revenue.

Our Story

RevvKraft Solutions was founded in Pune with a clear observation. Most mid-size Indian companies are not failing because of a bad product or a bad market. They are failing to grow because they have never built the systems that turn effort into predictable revenue.

Our founders came from backgrounds in sales leadership, digital marketing, and brand design. In every engagement, the pattern was the same. Companies with genuine potential were stuck because the foundational infrastructure, the sales playbook, the digital pipeline, the brand presence, had never been built properly.

RevvKraft was built to fix that. Not with generic training programmes or one-size-fits-all campaigns, but with customised, execution-focused engagements that produce measurable outcomes for every company we work with.

Today, RevvKraft serves companies across Maharashtra and pan-India, from manufacturing and IT services to professional services and retail, delivering integrated growth solutions across sales consulting, digital marketing, and exhibition presence.

Mission Statement

To help mid-size Indian businesses build the revenue systems, digital presence, and brand visibility they need to grow consistently. Not through luck or the founder's personal effort, but through proven, repeatable systems.

Vision Statement

An India where every growing business has access to the same quality of sales and marketing infrastructure that was previously available only to large enterprises.

Our Values

- Honesty: We tell clients what they need to hear, not what they want to hear. Our assessments are direct, our recommendations are honest, and our promises are ones we can keep.
- Accountability: Every engagement is measured against outcomes agreed at the start. We do not hide behind activity metrics when results are what matter.
- Customisation: No two companies are the same. We do not apply generic frameworks. Every engagement is designed for the specific company, market, and team we are working with.
- Long-term thinking: We build systems that work without us. Our goal is to make ourselves unnecessary, not indispensable.

SERVICES

Integrated Solutions for Revenue Growth, Digital Presence, and Brand Visibility.

RevvKraft offers three interconnected services, each designed to address a specific growth challenge and each capable of being delivered independently or as part of an integrated engagement.

1. Sales Growth Consulting

Most revenue plateaus are not caused by poor products or weak markets. They are caused by the absence of a structured, repeatable sales system. RevvKraft's Sales Growth Consulting service builds that system from the ground up, diagnosing exactly where your sales operation is breaking down and building the frameworks, processes, and skills that convert effort into consistent revenue.

We work with companies across all stages of sales maturity, from early-stage businesses building their first sales process to established companies whose growth has stalled despite a capable team.

The 6 Components of the Sales Growth Service

- Sales Audit and Gap Analysis: A comprehensive diagnostic of your current sales operation across six dimensions: strategy, pipeline, team skills, leadership, CRM, and metrics. Delivered as a written report with a prioritised 90-day action plan.
- Pipeline and Sales Process Structuring: Design and implementation of a structured, stage-by-stage sales pipeline, from prospect identification and qualification through to closing and handover. Includes CRM configuration, pipeline stage definitions, and mandatory deal criteria.
- Outbound Playbook Development: Creation of your complete outbound sales playbook, covering ICP definition, outreach sequences across email, WhatsApp, LinkedIn and phone, cold call scripts, follow-up cadences, and a break-up message template. Every script is customised for your specific market and product.
- Performance Tracking and Metrics Framework: Implementation of the five key sales metrics every team should track, a weekly pipeline review format for the sales manager, and a confidence-weighted monthly revenue forecast model.

- Sales Strategy and Market Analysis: Competitive positioning analysis, win/loss theme identification, ICP refinement, and trigger event mapping, ensuring your team is targeting the right companies at the right time with the right message.
- Sales Communication and Documentation Optimisation: Audit and rewrite of all client-facing sales documents, including proposals, email templates, objection handling guides, and presentation decks. Every document is aligned to the RevvKraft five-section proposal standard.

Who This Is For

Mid-size companies with 10 to 500 employees whose revenue has plateaued, whose sales team is working hard but not hitting targets, or whose founder is still personally involved in closing every significant deal.

2. Digital Marketing, Done for You

RevvKraft manages your complete digital marketing operation, from building your brand's online presence to generating qualified leads through paid and organic channels. You focus on closing the leads. We handle everything else.

Our digital marketing service is fully done-for-you. We do not provide advice and leave you to implement it. We build, run, and optimise every element of your digital marketing programme every month.

The 4 Digital Marketing Pillars

- Social Media Management: Strategy, content creation, graphic design, copywriting, scheduling, and community management across Instagram, Facebook, and LinkedIn. Twelve to twenty branded posts per month, managed entirely by the RevvKraft team.
- Meta Advertising (Facebook and Instagram): Full-service paid lead generation covering audience research, campaign setup, ad creative production, A/B testing, weekly optimisation, and monthly reporting. Every campaign is built around cost per qualified lead, not vanity metrics.

- LinkedIn Marketing: Company page management, thought leadership content, founder personal brand development, and LinkedIn ad campaigns. Designed specifically for B2B companies whose decision-maker audience is active on LinkedIn.

- SEO and Content Marketing: Keyword research, on-page optimisation, monthly blog content, backlink building, and performance reporting. Long-term organic lead generation that reduces dependence on paid advertising over time.

3. Exhibition Stall Design and Manufacturing

Your exhibition stall is your brand's physical ambassador at every trade show, industry event, and business exhibition. RevvKraft designs and manufactures exhibition stalls that command attention, communicate your brand's value proposition clearly, and create the right environment for meaningful business conversations.

From concept to installation, RevvKraft manages the complete exhibition stall project, covering design, material selection, fabrication, logistics, and on-site installation. You arrive at the venue and step into a stall that is ready to perform.

What Is Included

- Concept design and 3D visualisation, so you see exactly what your stall will look like before fabrication begins
- Structural design and engineering, with safe and compliant structures built to exhibition venue specifications
- Material selection and fabrication using high-quality materials chosen for durability, portability, and visual impact
- Branding and graphic production with all visual elements printed and applied to the highest standard
- Lighting design and installation with strategic lighting that makes your stall visible and inviting from a distance

- Furniture and fixture arrangement with a professional layout that guides visitor flow and creates conversation zones
- Logistics and delivery to venue
